2

2014

The image features the year '2014' in a large, bold, black, 3D-style font. The numbers are layered, giving them a sense of depth. The '2' is at the top, followed by the '0', and then the '1' and '4' stacked vertically. The entire number is set against a solid red background. To the right and behind the numbers, there is a complex pattern of thin, black, horizontal and vertical lines that resemble a circuit board or a digital grid. The lines are of varying lengths and are arranged in a way that suggests a digital or technological theme.

Rachel's Challenge

"Rachel's Challenge was an eye opener for all that attended. They did a session with the entire WCS student body, and, then again that evening, they did a community event. It was wild to see how everything played out in the Columbine school shooting and how much of an impact Rachel Joy Scott had on her student body. She was one of the first students to get shot and, in a way, had predicted the school shooting. The number of students that came forward after the shooting, saying that Rachel had impacted their lives in one way or another was amazing. She was a great young lady, and Rachel's Challenge is all about sharing her legacy and getting others to accept Rachel's Challenge and to start a positive chain reaction of their own."

- Tera Koupal -

FOR Club

"Through Rachel's Challenge, the Wagner School created a FOR Club: Friends of Rachel. The FOR Club was created to continue the work that Rachel's Challenge started. We have some students that really stepped up to the challenge and have worked hard to change the atmosphere of the Wagner School District. We have done a number of activities like welcoming our opponents to football games by holding encouraging signs, mix-it-up days at lunch, appreciation goodies for staff, the targeted chain reaction, welcome home for community members, and wish lanterns. It has been a joy to watch our students go out of their way for each other and lending a helping hand. We have had a number of students that have really latched onto this club and run with it. It is very important to let every student in the Wagner School District know and feel like they belong at the Wagner school, and the FOR Club is helping to make that happen."
